

Hello again loving friends and family..

23 December, 2007

Well: guess i messed up a lot! Please forgive me and lets go on.

I told some but not all not to write while I was gone; and most of that was returned to you anyway; please do not be too offended to start writing again.

I will have this sent out by email and will catch up on everyone else that does not get the emails as soon as I can with stamps and envelopes in short supply while commissary is still closed for another week. MY next shopping will be on the 2nd. I do have a few friends with stamps and copy cards to sent this out to you.

I had a successful trip and am back to work getting things ready for the Supreme Court within 60 days.

All of you law readers need to really read and study Perlaza, 439 F. 3d. 1049; it has some great news especially for those in the 9th ckt.

My health continues to be excellent, no weight loss or gain to brag about, plenty of exercise and good food.

We were given about a $10 bag of junk food on Friday as our holiday special.

For the last 19 December 25ths Donna and I celebrated our anniversary; so I have to create a new tradition around this time of year.

The worst news of my trip is that the man I left much of my legal stuff with has discarded a few pieces I really need to have copies of so a few will be asked to do some web looking, and printing for stuff to send to me.

Friend Kurt has been a great help and has work ready for me to proceed toward the Supreme Court with my judicial complaint to get White fired from the bench if not actually prosecuted for some of his crimes. I am also working toward getting more TIGTA complaints on the agents done; and am back to getting FOIA requests for oaths of office on agents, attorneys, and the judge. Yes I know courts are not subject to FOIA, but are required to have on record and to produce copies of oaths on request.

I am back to a condition where I want and enjoy hearing from you and keeping in touch as often as possible. Scott has as for now accepted the responsibility of emails and Terry with help from others is working over records and getting something going to help with trust matters. He said his intention was to help people come into compliance which I remain convinced we have never been out of compliance and the perlaza case will be a good educational tool for many of us.

The sunrises and sunsets here in west texas are still beautiful; and there are no bars or little slit windows to block the view.

Shelli and the children are doing well, and I am sure Jeff is well equipped for the enlarged family. Please help them any way you can.

I love and miss you all. I pray for friends and family often so please know that both you and I are highly blessed.

It looks like half of the people here were changed during my 7 weeks of absence, so lots of new ones to get use to.. LOVE ya all
